

CHINESE TROOPS.

Now that disturbances in China are almost brought to an end, the authorities at Peking are contemplating to readjust the whole army. But nearly 200,000 troops having been newly enlisted in consequence of the Yunnan uprising, the task proves to be no easy undertaking. For the sake of reference, we here give the number of men in uniform whom China had prior to the late Revolution, by the side of the troops now in the service.

	Before.	Now.
In Chihli (including
Jehol, Sakhar & Sul-
yuai) ... ..	82,000	152,500
" Shantung ... ..	15,600	27,000
" Shanai ... ..	14,500	28,700
" Honan ... ..	84,600	49,500
" Kiangsu ... ..	48,500	110,600
" Kiangsi ... ..	20,900	18,000
" Anhui ... ..	21,300	81,000
" Honan ... ..	19,500	62,000
" Hopeh ... ..	19,800	70,000
" Chekiang ... ..	14,700	47,900
" Fukien ... ..	5,000	48,000
" Shensi ... ..	14,800	20,000
" Kansu ... ..	13,800	15,000
" Szechuan ... ..	17,000	64,100
" Kwantung ... ..	38,800	150,900
" Kwangsi ... ..	8,200	55,700
" Yunnan ... ..	21,400	48,000
" Kweichow ... ..	12,100	84,000
" Fengtien ... ..	28,500	81,800
" Kirin ... ..	9,000	12,000
" Hailungkiang ... ..	19,000	18,000
" Sinkiang ... ..	8,000	17,000

"China Advertiser."